The official rankings for World Masters Athletics
This site is dedicated to serving Masters Athletes providing performance lists and many other features. Lists on this site are progressive so athletes can see where they stand all year long. Masters Rankings does not seek to replace any national ranking list - it will include those lists so World and WMA regional rankings lists are accurate and comprehensive.

It is recommended to read the User's Guide (https://mastersrankings.com/users-guide/) to become aware of all features and how to use them more quickly.
